Sophie Christiansen has got a serious illness. She can't walk very far and she can't talk very well but she is an excellent sportswoman. She is one of the best young horse riders in Britain. She takes part in sports events all over the world and she often wins. She's got a lot of gold medals but she says that events aren't easy for her. She says she can't eat before competitions because she's so scared!

Her favourite horse is a big grey horse called Lambrusco. She says he's kind and gentle, but very difficult to clean!

At the moment Sophie is a student. She's studying Maths at London University, but she says riding is her favourite activity. 'I love being on a horse because the horse moves for me and I feel free.'
